MACCRACKEN FIGHTS AS BRITAIN STARTS TO SERVE 10 YEARS

$5000 BAIL GIVEN TO FREE FORMER COMMERCE

Northwest Air Lines Vice-President Tired of Contest, But Still Believes He Is Innocent

Washington, Feb. 15 (INS)—Col. L. H. Brittin, vice-president of Northwest Air Lines, was taken through the portals of the District of Columbia jail today to serve his ten-day sentence for contempt of the Senate.

Brittin went to jail with his co-defendant, William F. MacCracken, aeronautics chief in the Hoover administration, who is pending court fight to set aside the sentence.

Both men were sentenced for removal and destruction of correspondence under Senate subpoena in connection with the Senate probe of airmail contract awards. Brittin, a gray-haired man of about 60, was visibly shaken as he entered the jail, accompanied by Charles W. Jurey, sergeant-at-arms of the Senate.

Brittin will not do any work in the jail. Inmates of the District jail are neither required nor permitted to perform any tasks.

MACCRACKEN BAIL $5000

Brittin was represented as being tired of the contest and, although still believing himself innocent, preferred to serve the sentence and end the matter instead of appealing to the courts.

Later, MacCracken was released on $5,000 bail, fixed by Justice Daniel W. O'Donnoghue of the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

He said that "getting out of jail would be based on the stipulation that there be an agreement between MacCracken and the government, and that the government would agree to drop the charges against him."

TWO MORE OPEN

Both U. S. Atty. Leslie Garnett and Frank J. Hogan, counsel for MacCracken, expressed satisfaction with the outcome.

Hogan would say whether he would appeal at once to the District of Columbia Court of Appeals.

Two other defendants in the airmail scandal, released in their acquittal, were Harry M. Jones, president of Western Air Express, and Gilmore L. Glavin, Washington representative of Hanemann's company. Hogan has plans for two moves.

one an application for a habeas corpus writ permitting bond while the case is on appeal, and the other, the filing of an appeal from a writ denied by Federal District Judge O'Donnoghue.

The Senate disposed of the four contempt cases in closed executive session. Vice-President Garner declared this program was in line with a resolution adopted during the trial began. MacCracken, for several years secretary of the American Bar Association and now a lawyer-lobbyist for a number of industrial companies, was convicted 64 to 20. The resolution to jail MacCracken for 10 days carried 50 to 25.

BLACK MOVIES ACQUITTED

Brittin was convicted by a 65 to 35 vote and his punishment approved 60 to 21. Hanush was acquitted 60 to 25.

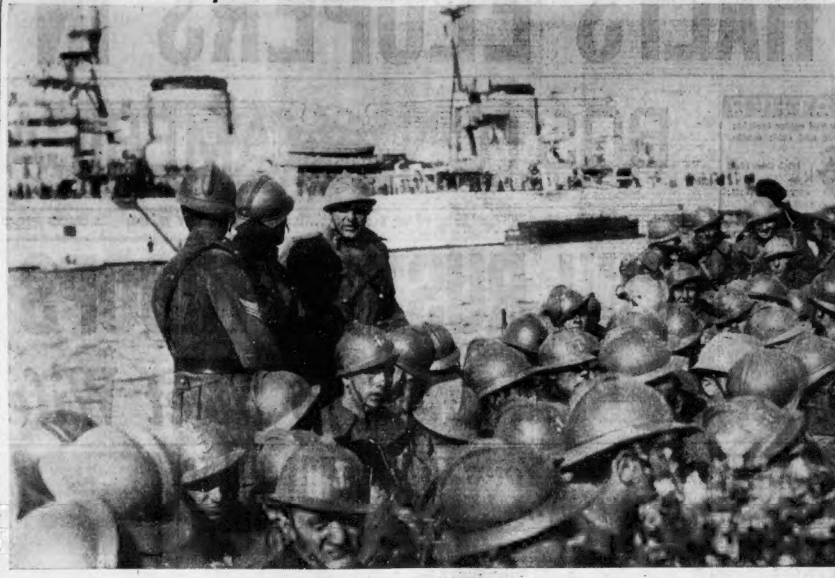

The two resolutions dealing with MacCracken's conviction were offered by Senator Clegg (D) of Alabama, chairman of the air mail investigating committee.

Senator McCarran (D) of Nevada offered the Brittin and MacCracken sentence. House then agreed that Brittin be discharged from the contempt cases. His resolution was approved 61 to 25.

ITALIANS CONCENTRATING

Italian troops are concentrating on the Italian-Austrian frontier, according to news dispatches from Rome, as civil war sweeps Austria. Two army corps have been moved from Bolzano and Udine and other divisions are on their way, although reports assert that these movements are a part of a prearranged troop movements. There seems to be no doubt but that the concentrations are hastened by the developments in Austria. Italian troops are shown embarking from a warship in a recent military movement in Italy. (International News Photo.)

Mulloney's Indictment Plea Goes to Jury

The case of Daniel C. Mulloney, president of the Federal National Bank, seeking to quash the indictment, went to the jury shortly before noon today in U. S. District Court.

In his charge, Judge John A. Peters told the jury there was a difference between corporate books and records and the private books and papers of a defendant, and that the government enjoyed wider latitude with the former.

The court explained that the jurors must weigh with great care Mulloney's charges against Prosecutor Irving G. McCann as to alleged bad faith and misconduct in procuring two indictments which charge the defendant with misappropriation of $77,000 of the bank funds.

"If such charges were sustained they would naturally prohibit this gentleman (McCann) from further serving our government," said the court. "We are not trying Mr. McCann. The burden of proof is on the defendant."

Judge Peters said he felt the grand jury deliberations on July 20 when Mulloney was summoned before that body was a "criminal proceeding," but that the jury must determine whether Mulloney was forced to testify against himself.

The court ruled that the methods employed by McCann in producing the books and records of the various banks and the part played by Agent Coccini of the Department of Justice was in accordance with the proper practice.

CONGRESS HAILS WAR SERIES

Washington, Feb. 15 (INS)—The articles of H. R. Knickerbocker, staff correspondent of the International News Service, on "War Will Come," are being followed closely by many members of Congress who are fearful of the continued possibility of another great war in Europe.

"I have read Mr. Knickerbocker's articles," said Rep. Sam D. McReynolds (D) of Tennessee, chairman of the House foreign affairs committee. "He has had long experience as an observer of European affairs. The articles are interesting and instructive."

Brown Says All Air Mail Contracts Were Legal

New York, Feb. 15 (INS)—A vigorous denial of Postmaster-General Farley's charges of conspiracy and collusion in connection with air mail contracts obtained during his tenure of office was announced today by Walter S. Brown, Postmaster general in the Hoover administration.

"Everything I did and everything done by anyone under me in connection with these contracts," he said, "was entirely legal and proper."

"I have been trying to tell it for weeks but they (the Senate committee) haven't given me a chance."

Asked about meetings referred to in Farley's letter, Brown said: "They were held for proper legal purposes—and they were not connected with air mail contracts."

Farley in his letter to Chairman Black specifically charged that the Postmaster General had conspired with the National Air Mail Association, a group of airmail operators, to secure the award of air mail contracts by means of a "conspiracy or collusion" with the Senate committee.

"There was nothing that I did that was not proper and legal. And that goes for everyone under me."

RAILS PLAN TO FLY MAIL

Washington, Feb. 15 (AP)—The House of Representatives and Northern Pacific Railroad today announced that the airline field was predicted here today with reports that the railroad was negotiating for the purchase of Northwest Airways.

Farley's Senate report related, however, that he had claimed air mail contracts were distributed by agreement. Some of these airlines were the then Postmaster general, Walter S. Brown, and his second assistant, W. Irving Glover. Farley charged that Brown had a "special charge of commerce" in the selection of airlines, sometimes serving as chairman of the

'They Shall Not Pass'—Duce to Dollfuss

Dollfuss. They would prefer to see him stay, but they do not believe it possible.

They count his assets. First his money. Second his political and social power. His position is quite different from that of Brüning's successor before Hitler came to power. Germany had a Hindenburg for president, who feared Brüning to resign. There is no body in Austria who can make Dollfuss resign. President Miksa, if he tried it, would simply be ignored. In this sense Dollfuss can stay just as long as his nerve holds out.

Third asset is his armed power: 22,000 regular army; 8000 military auxiliary corps; 8000 police; 8000 gendarmes; 5000 auxiliary police; 80,000 Heimwehr, making around 100,000. These figures seem large, but were supplied by a Dollfuss official.

Fourth asset is the Catholic Church, which supports Dollfuss as fervently as he is himself a fervent Catholic. This is the fact that the economic condition of Austria has begun to improve.

Fifth asset is the sympathy and support of Italy, France, England and the Little Entente.

Hitler All Ready to Gobble Austria

These are his assets. His debts are few. He is today by far the strongest, the most aggressive, and the most powerful man in Austria. He has his hands free to concentrate his principal attention on acquiring Austria.

According even to the friendly critics of Dollfuss, it is obvious that his government is sure to survive. The only anti-Nazi, the Dollfuss party says "No, we are pro-Austrian," but the fact is that the Nazis keep Dollfuss people in the background. The German people, the Dollfuss party says, are proved unable to learn from the experience of their comrades in the difference between a Nazi concentration camp and a Dollfuss detention camp.

Fourth debt, according to his critics: The armed forces are not all loyal. The Heimwehr, the backbone of his civilian military force, is the force and spirit of the Nazi youth. The Catholic church fails to prevent Nazis from going Nazi. And so far as economic improvement goes, Germany also is improving economically.

Finally, however, the Austrian people holds down to the attitude of the great power. Just how much of their support is "sympathy" and how much is support?

Mussolini Aid May Mean European War

Mussolini, according to all accounts, has promised Dollfuss that if German Nazi troops, or Austrian Nazi troops now in Germany, come over the border to overthrow his government, Italian troops will march in and throw the Germans out. If Mussolini did that, the Jugoslavs would march into Carinthia, because they would believe that the Italians were helping them. Again, if Mussolini did that, the only feasible military route from Italy to Jugoslavia would be through Austria.

With Italian and Jugoslav troops facing each other on foreign soil, the outcome could be a disaster of the first magnitude. General Rupprecht was quite certain of this. Again, if Mussolini did that, the only feasible military route from Italy to Jugoslavia would be through Austria.

Only perhaps the Jews. There are 220,000 Jews listed by religion in Austria, and probably 400,000 by race. Most of them are in Vienna. They suffer today the agonies of anticipated pogroms. Their only hope is that Nazi Austria might be like Nazi Danzig. Vienna's Jews hope, but they do not know.

(Another interesting article on war prospects in Europe tomorrow.)

Dollfuss' Only Hope Lies in Mussolini

Mussolini's threat remains about the only real support Austria has received, or can expect. But this threat has not prevented an estimated total of at least ten million dollars coming over the border for the use of the still active 30,000 professional Nazis in Austria, nor has it kept out tons of literature, stink bombs, lies, placards, stickers, and other spiritual weapons.

The property of the great powers has been expressed in diplomatic pressure to get the Nazis out of Austria. On the contrary it is the German feeling, shared by many neutral observers in Austria, that if Austria goes Nazi, it will be so from within. Some Austrian Nazis will succeed an exhausted Dollfuss, and perhaps after a succession of governments, the door will be open to the Nazis by the calling of an election. The more fact that elections were called would be a Nazi victory. Then so many robust citizens would be eager to get on the bandwagon that the Nazis would over sweep the singing of the Horst Wessel Lied.

Thereafter Austria need not for a long time proclaim its legal independence. The Nazis, the Dollfuss Hitler would be the chancellor of Austria, as he has partisans here have already declared him.

What nation could make war then? To an outside it appears that the threat of war here has been removed. The Nazis are against the Nazis, but that it will only remain a threat. Who could even protest in case the Nazis came in by this method?

U. S. PLANS FOR NEW PRIVATE AIRMAIL Committee Is to Start Work on Bill at Once.

Washington, Feb. 15 (INS)—Legislative machinery for creation of a new private air mail system was put in motion today as the House post office committee called high officials of the Administration to lay their plans before Congress.

Postmaster General Farley, together with the general accounting office and the War Department, were invited to send representatives before the committee.

Strong opposition was manifested over the temporary measure proposed by the Administration and embraced in bills introduced by Senator McClellan (D) of Tennessee and Rep. Brunner (D) of New York.

The measures would permit the Postmaster General to make temporary contracts for air mail to supplement the emergency mail service being provided by the war department.

SENATE GETS PROOF

The Postmaster General would be given authority to make three-month contracts without advertisement or competitive bidding.

Documentary proof that all of the government's air mail contracts, with the exception of those based on "conspiracy or collusion" were sent to the Senate today by Postmaster-General Farley. Postmaster-General Farley has been accused of awarding air mail contracts without competitive bidding.

They claimed aviation companies had been offered $46,800 from July 1, 1930, to Dec. 31, 1932. It identified the National Parks Airways as "the possible exception" and charged all the other contracts were awarded "on agreement and not on competitive bidding" as the law prescribed.

The army pushed plans to have the pilots and equipment ready to fly the mail by Sunday midnight, while the White House and Farley's department reported the Administration plan to reinstate some of the voided contracts.

Farley's Senate report related, however, that he had claimed air mail contracts were distributed by agreement. Some of these airlines were the then Postmaster general, Walter S. Brown, and his second assistant, W. Irving Glover. Farley charged that Brown had a "special charge of commerce" in the selection of airlines, sometimes serving as chairman of the

MACHINE GUNS HEAVING AUSTRIAN GARRISONS

By WADE WERNER

Vienna, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Socialist rebellion against the government of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss collapsed in the capital today, but the Socialists continued to fight in the provinces where, in some localities, they appeared to be warring the government troops.

Two thousand Socialists surrendered in a group at Leobersdorf on the southern outskirts of Vienna, but Prince Von Starbemberg, second vice chancellor of Austria and leader of the Fascist Heimwehr, was reported surrounded with his men in Rye. Government troops were dispatched from Vienna in an attempt to get through machine gun nests which rained fire.

WOMEN SUBRENDER

The Viennese sector of the civil war was definitely in the hands of the government after the Goethe Hof, a giant Socialist apartment building, surrendered to superior force.

Government troops, which had shelled the building with artillery when a wicked machine gun fire drove off their repeated attacks, marched in to find the Goethe Hof garrison was only women and children.

Through the Socialist section marched the "mopping up" squads of government troops. Wearing steel helmets and with bayonets fixed to their rifles systematically moving slowly through the section like the pieces on a chess board, cleaning up desultory opposition square by square.

FLIE TO JOIN PEASANTS

The majority of the men who previously had fought from the windows of the Goethe Hof, retreated across the ice of surrounding canals and fled to the countryside where, it was assumed, they sought to join their more successful brothers-in-arms.

It was indicated that the government will try to move through the villages where Socialists are still fighting in the same mopping up process, that is being carried on in Vienna—then concentrate its armed forces for a campaign against Linz, where Socialists apparently are in control.

The drive against Rye probably will be preliminary to the campaign in Linz. The surrender of the Socialists at there was the first response to Chancellor Dollfuss' offer of amnesty to all opponents who should lay down their arms by noon today. Socialists in their first estimate

Czechs View All Europe at War

Praha, Czechoslovakia, Feb. 15

(AP)—The fear of another great European war today sobered Czechoslovakia, faced today with troubles of its own.

The government has resigned and the Socialist labor unions have called a five-minute protest strike as a gesture of sympathy for fellow Czechoslovakia, fighting for their lives and political unity in neighboring Austria. Premier Jan Masaryk moved swiftly and a new regime functioned today.

Feeling over the Austrian situation is intense among Czechoslovakian working classes. Their labor unions are closely akin to those of Austria. A desire to aid Austrian Socialists has been expressed on many sides.

Receivers Deny Fund Dissipation

Minneapolis, Feb. 15—A general death shortly after last midnight auxiliary police today raided the news-revelling monopoly in Vienna, confiscating all foreign newspapers. At the same time other auxiliary detachments raided the cafes in all districts, confiscating foreign newspapers and illustrated journals printed since the outbreak of civil war.

Army and Heimwehr units marching toward Bzenec expected to reach there sometime this afternoon.

Automobiles carrying flowers for the graves in Vienna's central cemetery were turned back by the police. Mass burials of many street fighting victims were reported as under way.

The expedition to Bzenec followed a strike there by workers in the government salt works. Hundreds of them captured the public buildings there. Practically all the inhabitants of Bzenec depend on the salt works, or on tourists for their livelihood.

The Goethe Hof was a sad spectacle when the troops marched in. It had been the garrison of mostly women and children.

The building was badly damaged by fire and shells. Portions of the roof had been shot away and the corners blown off by shells, exposing the wrecked apartments within.

As they shuffled out into the street, the crowd of children and mothers gazed back at their once proud dwelling place.

ITALIANS HERE FACE WAR CALL

A number of Italians in Greater Boston are carried on the reserve roster of the Italian army and subject to call to arms should Italy become embroiled in war, it was learned today.

Premier Mussolini is mobilizing forces along the Austrian frontier because of the situation in Austria, and since a spark might start another general conflagration in Europe, reservists here anticipate a possible call.

W. H. Humphrey Dies at Capital

Washington, Feb. 15 (UP)—William E. Humphrey, 72, Republican member of the Federal Trade Commission, who was summarily removed last October after denying the President's right to expel him from office, died unexpectedly at his home here last night. He was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage.

Humphrey, who was appointed to the commission by President Coolidge in 1925, and reappointed by President Hoover in 1931, was the director of the battle with the Roosevelt administration. His widow, Mrs. Ellen Humphrey, will continue his fight in the court of claim for the salary for his full term on the trade commission.

The government borrows eight hundred million dollars more, for "re-financing," announced proudly as over-subscription, and the books are closed.

Government financiers are cheered by the willingness to absorb this second big offer, say million dollars more by the end of the fiscal year.

Nobody really paid in eight hundred million. The banks pay 5 per cent on the amount of bonds allotted them, and may issue their own paper money against bonds that they hold.

The fact interesting to taxpayers is that borrowing ten billions in interest-bearing bonds means paying not only ten billions in principal, but more than ten billions in interest before the debt is cancelled. Paying the ten billions in interest could be avoided if the government would issue currency, and call it a loan, instead of redeeming bonds. Ten billion dollars could be saved.

Facilitate frontier guards have been strengthened. This fact has no connection with the possible invasion of Austria, but might be interpreted as a concentration in connection with the possibility of Socialists trying to tie across the Italian border. Italy does not want them.

An official spokesman repeated that there has been no concentration of troops within the last few days and that what movement of troops there has been recently toward the Austrian frontier has been in consequence of military transfers begun last September.

REDS JEER AT 'Hands Off' Is British View on Austria

Paris, Feb. 15 (INR)—Facing Parliament for the first time with his new cabinet, Premier Gaston Doumergue today encountered a Communist barrage as he presented his program. There were shouts of: "Assassin!" "Miserable!" "Miserable!"

The Communist still embittered over the shooting of many radicals in last week's Paris riots, were the shouts.

Each time Doumergue began a sentence with "The government," the Communists yelled: "The government is murdering."

The premier, however, ignored the interruptions and continued, calmly read his speech calling for a moral house cleaning.

The new ministry is expected to win an early victory on a vote of confidence before tonight.

CZECHS STARTED AUSTRIAN REVOLT, PRESS CHARGES

By the Associated Press

Two powerful newspapers, the Giornale d'Italia in Rome and the Magyar in Budapest today declared the Czechoslovakian government had aided and abetted the Austrian Socialists in the rebellion against the government of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss.

The Italian paper, often the mouthpiece of the Mussolini government, and word of Czechoslovakian aid was shown in the movement used by the Austrian Socialists.

The Hungarian newspaper declared the Czech government had devalued its currency in order to wreck Austrian industry, thereby creating unrest.

Rome, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Giornale d'Italia, a newspaper considered one of the government's most frequently used mouthpieces, charged Czechoslovakia and other unnamed countries with supporting the Austrian Socialist rebellion.

The newspaper calls for "the return of some states to a precise sense of their responsibilities and to a greater discipline and sincerity of action."

It says that Austrian Socialism found the support not only of political parties but of states and that it found reason for its force and aggression in the support that came to it from government sources. Referring directly to Czechoslovakia, the Giornale says:

"Proofs of this are found in the spoken encouragement given Austrian Socialism against Chancellor Dollfuss in more than one newspaper in more than one country."

"As are found in the origin of part of the abundant waste material with which the Socialists fortified their fortresses."

"They are found, moreover, in the direction of the flight taken by the heads of Austrian Socialism."

The newspaper says the Socialists armed uprising has amplified Dollfuss' task for Socialism now has been liquidated in Austria and now Dollfuss can count more than ever on the growing cordiality of the various powers, particularly Italy.

The newspaper Magyar says: "The attitude of Czechoslovakia and France is absolutely inexcusable."

Budapest, Feb. 15 (AP)—The newspaper Magyar today accused the Czechoslovakian government of giving weapons to Austrian Socialists to wage civil war.

The Magyar says: "The Edmond Benes, minister of foreign affairs of Czechoslovakia, being afraid that the Austrian Heimwehr would restore the monarchy in Austria, gave money to the Socialists, hoping that they came into power they would bring Austria into the Little Entente.

Dr. Benes is one of the organizers of the Little Entente of Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Rumania and recently went to Paris for conferences with the French ministry of foreign relations.

The newspaper Magyar charges the Czech government with the intention of wrecking Austrian industry by the recent devaluation of the Czech krona by 16 per cent.

FATHER TO GIVE 2 UP FOR BANK DEATH QUIZ

Joseph Millen, father of two young men wanted for questioning in the murderous robbery of the Needham Trust Co., today told the state police that he was making every effort to find his sons.

And he promised to surrender them for questioning as soon as they returned to their homes in Roxbury and the Back Bay.

State Detectives Farrel and Stokes, who talked with the father today, were told that he expected the younger of the men, Irving, to return before evening.

Neither Irving nor his brother Merion had a part in the crime, the father said. They went into hiding, he declared, because they feared gang retribution if they so much as talked to a policeman.

He was assured that two state troopers would be assigned to guard the younger son and his family night and day after he returns.

The police, however, are leaving no stone unturned in their efforts to find the two Millens. Today they sent out a radio broadcast, asking that all officers be on the lookout for a car bearing the registration number 43327. They say that Merion will be found in this sedan with his 19-year-old wife, Norma.

Because the men installed a short wave radio set in what is believed to have been the bandit car, police feel they may have valuable information.

WANTED BY POLICEMAN
At the same time, state troopers were guarding witnesses of the bank robbery, in which two policemen were murdered, as a result of reports that attempts would be made to silence them.

Chaplin Boys to Pick Careers, Says Lita

Children should make at least a temporary decision as to their careers when they reach the age of 14, Lita Grey Chaplin, divorced wife of the famous Charlie, declared today after settling her suit which will be her home for the next week.

Her own boys, Charles, 8, and Sidney, 7, will make their own decision when they are 14, she said. They are now in a Pacific Coast military school but may shortly come East, probably in New York, she said.

MOVIES IN THEIR BLOOD
She said she didn't know whether the boys would follow in the footsteps of their famous dad.

"But I don't see how you're going to keep them away from the movies," she added. "It's in their blood."

POLICE RIDICULE
NEEDHAM ACTS
Gen. Daniel Needham's part as state police head in the Peggy McMath kidnapping, the Casa Madrid raid and the Needham bank robbery and murders is held up to ridicule in the letter of the Massachusetts Police Association to Gov. Ely, made public today.

Sending of this letter by the association president, Capt. John J. Canney, head of Cambridge detectives, was exclusively reported in the Boston Evening American two days ago.

"The commissioner's efforts in the Needham holdup have been as feeble as we feel he should be, was exclusively reported in the Boston Evening American two days ago."

Needham is accused of searching for public acclaim.

their blood. I would guess they would follow their father's career."

Talk dark-haired and avert, Mrs. Chaplin admitted she would answer a Hollywood call if one came. She plans to appear in stock this summer, however.

"What do you weigh?" she was asked.

"One hundred and twenty-four. My worry is not dieting, but trying to put more weight on."

She brushed romance aside with a wave of her hand. She isn't involved, she said.

WHOM SHE'LL MARRY
"If ever I do marry again, it will be a man who will not interfere with my career. Marriages in the profession don't work out so well," she said.

On one wrist Mrs. Chaplin wears two diamond bracelets, and on the other a plain gold chain to which all sorts of metal good luck symbols have been attached. There are a four-leaf clover, an elephant, a bear skin, rabbit's hind foot, etc.

"But I'm not," she said, smiling. "The least bit superstitious."

Truck Escapes Tragedy Scene
Believed to have been struck down by a hit-and-run truck, the body of Arthur P. Porter, 44, of Broadway, Saugus, was found early today on the Newburyport Turnpike, near his home.

The body was found by a passing motorist, who told police he noticed a truck speeding away from the scene a short time before.

Lowell Editor's Wife Dies
Lowell, Feb. 15 (AP)—Mrs. Florence Bailey Marten, wife of Philip S. Marten, editor-in-chief of the Lowell Courier-Citizen, died today in Boston after a long illness.

WHITE RATS IN STOCK PROBE

Washington, Feb. 15 (INS)—The feeding of white rats played a part in the dizzy rise and fall of alcohol stocks on the New York Stock Exchange, the Senate banking committee learned today.

While officers of the American Commercial Alcohol Corp. juggled its securities about on the stock market through use of options and "dummy corporations," a German scientist patiently experimented in a laboratory with the white rats as part of the deal, according to the evidence.

Dignified senators revealed more interest in the feeding of the Albino rodents than in the elaborate financial transactions outlined by Russell R. Brown, Alcohol Corp. board chairman.

Brown admitted that two dummy corporations were organized and that their stocks were exchanged for Alcohol Corp. securities. Scientific discoveries by Dr. Hans Maister, German vermiculifer, formed the basis for one of the schemes, called the Maister Laboratory Co., according to Brown. Dr. Maister also is employed by the Alcohol Corp. at $6500 a year.

Rosendahl Made Navy Commander

Washington, Feb. 15 (AP)—Lieut. Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, former executive officer of the airship Shenandoah and later commander of the Los Angeles and Akron, is among 45 navy officers promoted to the rank of commander today with approval of President Roosevelt.

Others promoted to commander to take rank when vacancies occur include: William G. R. Hatch, Lynn, Mass., now at Annapolis; Frank L. Low, now at Newport, R. I.; Charles D. Swain, Hingham, Mass., now at the Navy Department; and John R. W. Waller of Manchester-by-the-Sea, Mass., on duty at the Naval Academy.

Horse Recovering From Chunnel Fall

"Jiggs," the city ashcart horse that fell into the South Bay chunnel Monday, was doing very nicely at the M. S. P. C. A. hospital in Brookline today. Doctors said the quart of whiskey "Jiggs" got when he was pulled from the water probably saved him from pneumonia.

NEW DRIVE ON DOPE RINGS

Washington, Feb. 15 (INS)—Legislation imposing severe penalties for narcotic smuggling will be introduced in the House this week, Rep. Kramer (D.) of California, announced today.

Kramer has drafted a bill imposing heavy fines on both owners and masters of ships used in running contraband. He is also seeking an additional appropriation of $1,000,000 to augment the Federal Narcotics Bureau with a skilled personnel.

A similar proposal was embodied in the tariff bill of 1933 which was passed by the House but stricken out by the Senate.

THE LARGEST USER OF FINE TURKISH TOBACCOS

...one reason
why Luckies taste
better, smoother

In Turkey too, only the finest tobaccos are selected for Lucky Strike—the mildest leaves, the most delicate, the most aromatic. Lucky Strike is the world's largest user of fine Turkish tobaccos. Then these tender, delicate Turkish leaves are blended with choice tobaccos from our own Southland—to make your Lucky Strike a cigarette that is fully packed—so round, so firm—free from loose ends. That's why Luckies taste better, smoother. "It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.

NOT the top leaves—they're under-developed—they are harsh!

The Cream of the Crop

NEW TANGLES IN MARITAL SKEIN OF IAN KEITH

Hollywood, Feb. 15 (AP).—Out of Hollywood's St. Valentine's Day horse-podgy, which wasn't all that it should be, today came reiterated denials that Ian Keith and Judith Anderson were married.

Ferna Andra, third wife of the handsome actor, said it "looks like I'm the head woman."

Keith said "I don't know anything about it."

No mention was made in discussion of Keith's marital status of a pending divorce suit filed by Miss Andra.

Before a luncheon date with Keith yesterday Miss Andra said she wanted to talk with him about telegrams he sent from the East suggesting they marry to end any doubt of legality of the Crown Point ceremony.

The most explicit in denial of reports that Keith had been married for a fourth time was Miss Anderson, who the actor suggested should do the talking.

"I have never been married to Ian Keith," she said in New York, "nor have I ever been married to anyone. I don't know a thing about all this. I only know I am single and not married."

Other affairs of film folk on St. Valentine's Day:

Sidney Fox and Charles Boschan kissed and made up after that disagreement on New Year's and said all their troubles have turned to new happiness.

Jeanette MacDonald and Maurice Chevalier, who have been having differences over their picture, buried the hatchet and kissed each other as a token of agreement.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 30 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets, while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No griping is the "by-product" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to spasmodic action.

If you have a "dark brown morbid" dull, tired, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Inside Story of Back Bay Extortion

of the same type she has directed to other former prisoners in whose welfare and rehabilitation she took an active interest.

They could not be snatched in any other light yet gangland tried to make a fortune by blackmailing Mrs. Lyman into buying them to avoid embarrassment on the eve of her daughter's wedding.

Diagan says these letters were stolen from him by three men, with one of whom he served a prison sentence. Contact was made with Mrs. Lyman, demands and threats voiced—and Mrs. Lyman promptly went to police and laid the entire matter before them. This was two weeks ago.

Diagan was arrested Tuesday by police of the Milk st. station when he called at the postoffice expecting a letter or check from Mrs. Lyman, to whom he had recently appealed for more assistance. He was released yesterday after naming the three men in the plot.

STORY IS REPEATED

He was found today at a South End rooming house and told this story, substantially the same with which he satisfied authorities and Mrs. Lyman that he was not involved.

"I have a wife and children. I served under a relative of Mrs. Lyman in the army in the Philippines. After I had been in trouble and had said I had been released, I determined to go straight and appeal to a certain agency for help."

"In this way I came in contact with Mrs. Lyman, who has helped many men redeem themselves to their families after they were in hard luck to it when I was hard put to it to make both ends meet—honestly."

I would write to her and she would send me helpful letters, sometimes enclosing money, from wherever she might be at the time. Over a period of years I received such letters from her from England, Germany and Paris.

LETTER THEFT CHARGED

"A man with whom I served time knew that Mrs. Lyman was aiding in my rehabilitation. With two others—and—who are now defendants in the $500,000 Liberty bond larceny in New York, he stole the letters from a former address of mine in the city."

"Once they had the letters they flattered them in my face and tried to force me into untrue statements to aid them in their scheme. I would not go into it because Mrs. Lyman has been kind and helpful to me."

"They planned a shake-down and made their demands. Mrs. Lyman did not want I knew she would do—she fearfully went to the police."

PILOT REVEALED

"I could have told them what the kind of woman she is not intimidated by such a dirty scheme."

"I went to the postoffice Tuesday expecting to receive a letter from Mrs. Lyman in answer to a request that I had made for financial assistance, but instead I was placed under arrest."

"I told the police everything I knew. The two men who worked with my former jail pal had been here up to about 10 days ago fighting removal to New York for trial in the larceny."

"The men figured they would pay them rather than have any annoyance at the time because of the marriage of her daughter. I think Mrs. Lyman has been helping me for nearly 30 years at times when I needed help badly. Probably because I served under her relative in the army she was more interested in my case than others."

"The three men whose names I gave the police, I identified in Roger's gallery pictures."

"Mrs. Lyman knows I am innocently involved and had nothing to do with the extortion attempt."

"She visited me at the Milk st. station following my arrest and I told her everything I knew with all the names. The police then released me."

"Yes, I'm scared of being 'kumped off' but because she was always so fine to me and my family—and because it was the letters of help she sent me that were being used in the shake-down—I couldn't do any different than I did."

By Betty Alden

THE MARRIAGE OF MISS HANNAH GILBERT AYER, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Bourne Ayer of Milton, and Mr. Robert Sallontall, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sallontall of Redville, will be solemnized on Friday, March 9, at high noon, in the Unitarian Church in Milton. . . it will be a small family wedding with only relatives and a few intimate friends attending.

Mrs. Susannah Ayer and Miss Mary Ayer, sisters of the bride, and Miss Caroline Sallontall will attend her as bridesmaids and a younger sister, Miss Betsy, will be flower girl. . . Mr. Henry S. Howe will act as best man. . . the usher couple has not been announced.

Miss Ayer, known to her friends as "Nancy," was presented in the season of 1930-31 and is a member of the Vincent Club and Junior League.

Mr. Sallontall was graduated last June from Harvard, where he starred as an athlete.

Mrs. Frederick Gardiner and her debutante daughter, Miss Polly, one of the season's prettiest and most popular buds, have closed their house at Beverly Farms and are staying with their aunt, Mrs. Lars Anderson.

For the remainder of the season, Miss Polly attends the many Boston parties, no doubt it is more convenient to have breakfast in Brookline than way down on the North Shore.

Elvyn Wetherby is chairman of a group of girls who have been presented this season who will form a committee to arrange a roller skating party to benefit sweet charity. . . the date is March 10 at Mooseley's on the Charles and the charity is the Kurn Hatlin Home. Among the group are Jean Fuller, Virginia Tolman, Ursula Coates, Marjorie Owsen, Mary Jane Dewey, Katherine Baker and Polly Cotter.

Valentine Party for Polly Cotter

SPEAKING OF MISS COTTER, we hear that her Valentine party given by her aunt, Mrs. Charles A. Shea, was a brilliant success. . . the table was gorgeous with a huge pink satin heart pierced by a golden arrow as the centerpiece, surrounded by dozens of flaming pink carnations for which Federal Hill Farm is justly famous. Miss Cotter wore her presentation gown, light blue crepe with tiered skirt of heavily beaded fringe, an original French model, and Mrs. Shea was also very Parisian in black velvet with touches of Valentine pink.

All fashion turned out to attend church on Ash Wednesday. . . we glimpsed Martha Means and her fiancé, Arthur Lithgow Devena, arm in arm on their way to observe this day, and very turtle-dovey they looked. . . also observed Mrs. Boylston Beale and Mrs. S. V. R. Crosby snuggled in furs as they honored the first day of Lent.

We hear that Sarah Palfrey and Marshall Fabian, Jr., will choose the month of roses to plight their troth this summer. . .

That popular man-about-town, Nat Ayer, and the popular James Dean, have sailed on a West Indies cruise. . . left yesterday, we imagine, on the Georgia. . .

Mrs. Stoughton Bell is giving a series of luncheons. . . no collections taken, no pledges asked. . . just for fun. No doughnuts served.

We learn that Hans Weiner, dancer extraordinary, is searching for 100 beautiful, graceful, dancing girls for try-outs for an engagement in New York in March. . . from the 100 selected, 29 will be given four weeks of intensive training and a real chance to dance in New York in one of the popular musical shows. No doubt many of the Vincent Club girls and dancing society girls will jump at this stage. . .

Ruth Emerson May Get Stage Contract

LUNCHING WITH A FRIEND YESTERDAY, we learned that Ruth Emerson, talented daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Haven Emerson, may appear on the New York stage with a real contract in the near future. . .

Which no doubt will please Mr. James D. Davenport who is tired of reading about "atrocious debauches" and their foolish fads and fancies. . . after all, James, you don't HAVE to read the "soc" column. As we have not often mentioned, these thousand words a day are not meant to be serious reading. . . we are trying to forget the suffering "wimmin" and the undernourished babies for a minute or two. . . goodness knows, the rest of the paper makes mention of them often enough.

And, thanks, Mrs. H. T. H., for the lovely Valentine. . . it is sweet to be appreciated in this life. . .

Priscilla Phelan has been elected to the board of directors of the North Shore Babies Hospital. . . check up on that, J. D. D.

Japan Society to Meet

MR. AND MRS. GODFREY L. CABOT are opening their home at 242 Beacon st. for the February meeting of the Japan Society of Boston tomorrow at 8 o'clock. At that time Laurence Binyon, C. H., keeper of prints and drawings, British Museum; H. D. Litt, Oxford; Charles Elliot Norton, professor of literature, Harvard University, 1933-1934, will give an illustrated lecture on "Japanese Prints." Professor Binyon was Lowell lecturer in Boston in 1912 and was visiting lecturer in this country in 1914 and 1926. Among his numerous publications "Paintings in the Far East," "The Court Painters of the Grand Mogul," "Japanese Color Prints," "The Flight of the Dragon" and "William Blake" are noteworthy. Several of Dr. Binyon's plays, "Sakuntala," "Attila," "Arthur," and "The Young King" have been produced.

The special guests for this occasion will include Sir Herbert B. Ames and Lady Ames, Dr. and Mrs. John W. Bartol, president of the English Speaking Union; Mr. R. Burdon-Miller; Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot B. Evans, collector of Japanese prints; Mr. Hugh Alexander Ford, British consul general at Bombay; Mr. Charles B. Hoyt; Dr. and Mrs. J. Russell Mackinnon, president of the Canadian Club; Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Mead, vice-president of Brown University, and Miss Edith A. Sawyer, author of "The Way of Ume" and "The Abiding of Ume."

Since the Hon. W. Cameron Forbes, president of the Japan Society, is in Honduras, Mr. Willis J. Abbott, vice-president, will preside.

Mrs. Mary Morris, the austere heroine of "The Double Door" at the Plymouth Theater, will be the guest of honor at a tea given for her and the other members of the cast of the play by the members of the 47 Club, formerly associates of Miss Morris in the "47 Workshop."

THE CHURCHILL ROOM of Acadia House at Radcliffe College will be the scene of the party on Friday afternoon at 3:45, and Miss Morris will give a brief speech on a topic of her own choosing.

Mrs. Gertrude Lord, who is in charge of the sources, will have the assistance of Mrs. Philip Sallontall, Mrs. Frederick H. Briggs, Mrs. Charles Bolster and Mrs. William Corderius, the latter alumnae secretary of the class of 1912 at Radcliffe, and a classmate of Miss Morris.

Miss Alberta Roach, president of the 47 Club, has extended invitations to the officers of the latter club, the 47 Workshop and the Harvard Dramatic Club. It is an interesting coincidence that nine members of the cast of "The Double Door" as well as the author, Miss Elizabeth Culler, are graduates of their dramatic training in Prof. Baker's 47 Workshop.

Cleveland Girl Flower Sale to Aid Campaign Drive

AN ENGAGEMENT OF INTEREST in intellectual and social circles is that of Miss Flora Best, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Best of Cleveland, Ohio, to Mr. Philip Donham, son of Dean and Mrs. Wallace Donham of the Harvard Business School.

Miss Best attended the Hatheway-Brown School in Cleveland and is a member of the graduating class at Smith College. She is a direct descendant of General Thomas Page, the last royal governor of Massachusetts, who also forced in this country at the beginning of the Revolution.

Miss Ellen O'Donnell will entertain buyers of flowers.

There will be one coffee party on Friday and that at eight o'clock in evening at the Legion Home in Needham.

Each of the original 72 members is permitted to invite one friend to participate in the discussion. The talks will be preceded by coffee at 10:30 and are followed by luncheon.

TOMORROW EVENING is the date of the next heralded Valentine dance of the North Shore, to be held at Putnam Lodge in Danvers.

MISS MARY MORRIS, general chairman, is assisted by Doris Hoyt, Betty Dunne, Frances Sackler, Margaret Franks and Fred Elenman.

NEW JERSEY SOCIETY circles took on a Bostonian atmosphere this week, with the return of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Madden of Hackensack, who were married at the marriage of the couple was the most fashionable wedding of the holiday season.

GREATER BOSTON GOES TO WAR

Our Soldiers Over Here, Over There
as Recorded for History by Camera

HE'S GONE—No, he wasn't in that company over there where mother was looking. He had marched away with the 101st Field Artillery, and she had just missed him. Mother was Mrs. Joseph A. Campbell, wife of the corporation counsel of Boston. She was bringing a basket filled with cake and good HOME AGAIN—The bands were playing glad martial music for these doughboys of the Yankee Division as they marched down old Boylston st. to the cheers of a welcoming throng. They were just passing the Tennis and Racquet Club here. Many a heart of mother, wife and sweetheart was brimming with joy, but many another heart was broken as a strange face filled that place in the ranks that once held a boy near and dear.

The recorded history of the human race spans four thousand years—and they have been years of almost incessant warfare, broken only by a little peace.

Down the red record of those years, one story runs—warfare has become steadily more destructive and deadly.

The wars of the Middle Ages, because of new weapons, were worse than any wars the ancients knew.

Then gunpowder brought in the era of modern warfare—and modern warfare, it was thought a century ago, had culminated in the Wars of Napoleon.

After the Napoleonic Wars, a Russian Czar—a pacifist—invented a Holy League for peace; but there was no lasting peace. Wars continued.

Bloodier battles than Marengo or Austerlitz were fought in the Crimea; still later, militaristic Prussia, under Bismarck, marched her armies into the very capital of unprepared France; and again, the next generation saw warfare yet worse than any before—the World War, which involved America, destroyed governments and swept away ten million lives.

America was unprepared when the World War began. And because we were unprepared, we must pay for fifty years the price of pacifism.

On this page, you see pictured some of the incidents of that last war into which our unpreparedness plunged us—American boys hurried off to battle, and flag-draped coffins coming "home."

The next war? America must be prepared—and KEEP OUT—of the next war!

SAY A-A-AH—"Let's see your teeth and tonsils. Throw out your chest and take a deep breath. Pull that chin in and straighten up. You're in the Army now." Yes, they were in the Army, then, back in '12 and '18. Ling after line of these men and boys were getting a physical checkup and a few words of instruction at Camp Devens, just before they turned in those "civvies" for the olive drab.

"KAMERAD"—These doughboys have survived the withering death of No Man's Land to reach their objective.

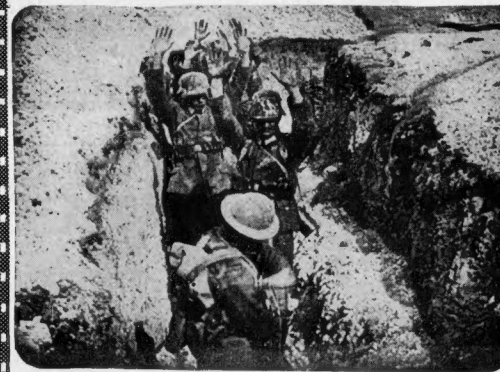

(The pictures are scenes from "Forgotten Men," sensational, uncensored picture record of the World War, edited and assembled by Samuel Cummins.)

Doughboys explore a German trench.

They leap in on a weary foe.

But other Germans never lived to Surrender.

SINKING OF MAINE TO BE DRAMATIZED ON RADIO YEGGS LAUGH AND LAUGH

By N. F. T.
Tragedy—the naval tragedy which was largely responsible for the Spanish-American clash of arms, affords opportunity for an impressive coast to coast radio program tonight (WBZ) as it originates in Washington, D. C. Just 36 years ago the "U. S. S. Maine" was sent to the bottom of Havana harbor with a shocking loss of 260 lives. Relations were painfully strained between Spain and the United States at the time, so that the big battleship loss and the death of practically all on board hastened the pending declaration of war. That was back in 1898.

Veterans of Foreign Wars are shaping the above program, due to occupy an hour on the air, from 11:30 P. M. until 12:30 A. M. There is to be a stirring dramatic re-enactment of the Maine sinking, along with a brief address by James E. Van Zandt, National Commander of the V. F. W. forces. Mr. J. H. Pitcock, head of the V. F. W. Ladies Auxiliary is likewise slated for a short speaking turn. Attending patriotic music is coming through turned in by the U. S. Marine Band.

evening at 10 o'clock. However, his appearance has been postponed. Fred Warring doesn't say, but he might have been worried about Frank trying to take a few of his musicians along in a few minutes when the boys go plumb haywire on one of those "Let's All Sing Like the Birdies Sing" novelties, or similar wild animal song specialties.

Vocal folk measures are available over local air lanes tonight (WAAB) while the great colored Boston Mass Chorus and the Greater Boston Mixed Chorus occupy the 8 to 10 P. M. span. First trained voices, under the direction of Dorothy Johnson.

FOREIGN FEATHER
All the Austrian turmoil may be made more or less clear to us by certain Columbia Network (extensive plans go through. Schedules now call for Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss to speak to the world from Vienna on Sunday afternoon next (WNAC) at 12:15 P. M. Translation of his address will immediately follow its delivery.

Tallulah Bankhead, temperamental beauty of stage and screen, contributes her rare acting talents with the regular Rudy Valley Hour (WBZ) at 8 o'clock tonight. Lorraine Buchanan is replacing Alice Payne as soloist for Rudy and Good old Tom Howard has been elected again for the comedy cutting-up.

FRUITFUL FANCY
Martha Lee, our right-up-to-snuff and all-to-be-mustard culinary counsel, who speaks for your favorite evening newspaper (WAAB) on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings at 11 o'clock, is very much interested in "National Cherry Week" as we find it getting under way today. Moreover, alert Martha has suggested our "Peach Edition of the Air" as waited each afternoon, be temporarily labeled in honor of the brilliant cherry. All of which might best be treated for let's say, well a cherry pie would be acceptable.

There is often a suspicion that when a great industry speaks in its own behalf, it has a hidden purpose. . . . The facts in the situation confronting the United States sugar refining industry today, however, speak for themselves.

When workers in the great refineries of the principal seaports of the country see cargoes of refined sugar being unloaded at their very doorsteps, they know that every bag means just so much less work for them and their fellow-workers, just so much less business for the community in which they live and for other communities of fellow Americans! Tropical refineries hum, United States refineries work part time.

No one can seriously question the efficiency with which the American refiners have served the American public in supplying it with the finest sugar, in all equated varieties, at a low and reasonable price. In the years 1922 to 1931, 19 American refineries paid out $231,605,137 in wages and salaries. They pay out for materials and supplies, including coal, oil and power, approximately one billion dollars in a normal ten-year period, furnishing business for many industries and employment for many thousands of our people.

These cargoes of refined sugar are being dumped here from the Philippines, Puerto Rico, and Cuba because we have a tariff schedule which gives, in effect, not only free trade to all island refiners but a virtual subsidy to Cuba. This has already resulted in a loss to Americans of a market within their own country equivalent to the annual consumption of sugar in the following 21 states: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Delaware, West Virginia, South Carolina, Mississippi, Florida, Arkansas, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Idaho, Nevada, Wyoming.

United States Cane Sugar Refining Industry

Refineries in Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Georgia, Louisiana, Texas and California able and would verify lead as little weight to the persuasion.

AND LAUGH

New York, Feb. 15 (INS). They laughed when they sat down to crack Edward W. "Daddy" Browning's wife in his Broadway real estate office.

Because one of the yeggs came upon a box of his love letters. Another found a case of champagne. The business of safe cracking was delayed—until the watchman came around early this morning.

The yeggs find and the watchman found the space in front of the safe littered with love letters, safe cracking tools and empty bottles.

Ice Packs Block Coast Summer Piers Wrecked

All of New England's coast line is being virtually ice-bound today with thousands suffering from lack of supplies, fishermen tied up in ports and heavy damage caused by shifting ice-packs.

In the Harbor the ice-floes carried away the piers of summer homes of wealthy Bostonians and New Yorkers, causing damage estimated at more than $100,000, and inhabitants of the islands of the coast are still awed of the food and fuel despite airplane excursions.

From points south as well as north of Boston steamers with mail, fish, haberdash and goods are written in the streets in some places 30 to 35 miles long. Nantucket Island has 3500 registered.

The neighboring coast of Cape Cod has north of Brewster, and sea and shore of that area are still awed of the ships from the shores inside the Cape from Nantucket to Provincetown.

REAL ESTATE HAILS SALES TAX AID

That the creation of a sales tax will save thousands of real estate owners from ruin it installed as a new form of revenue was the statement on record today of scores of prominent Boston men and women who yesterday heard State Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long admit that the need of additional money is becoming a vital question.

At the same time, another faction prepared to line up to oppose the proposed legislation if the legislative committee on ways and means decides in favor of the measure.

According to those seeking to pass the bill, the measure provides for a tax of 2 cents to be paid by consumers on all commodities purchased, including food and other necessities. The only exemptions of this bill would be gasoline and alcoholic beverages both of which are already taxed.

The opposition was led by Prof. Melvin T. McNair of the Harvard Business School.

He declared that the cost of living is so far ahead of the increase in wages that such a tax would force people to curtail the volume of expenditures.

BOY FLIERS END JUNGLE HOP

Miami, Fla., Feb. 15 (AP)—Back in their homeland—and glad to be—after three months of a routine over Mexico and Central America, Bob Hoot of Woodford, N. J., and Robert Nixon of New York, 20-year-old pilots, today plotted a course to familiar friends.

They flew without plans, landing where they willed, and traveling over miles of tropical jungles where landing fields were far apart. The youths spent three weeks in the Mayan area of Yucatan, making Consume their base.

Back and Nixon flew from Havana yesterday in their light plane and planned to continue on to New York today.

Traveling Parents Pick Novel Names

Cadillac, Mich., Feb. 15 (AP)—Little Oklahoma Otter Fleming has arrived to bless the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fleming. He was welcomed by Texas Ranger Fleming, Montana Lou, Kansas Cy, and Virginia Chief and Virginia Paquin, brothers and sisters.

The Flemings have moved around quite a bit, and preserved the memories of their favorite states and cities in names for their children.

Conn. Stamp Planned

Washington, Feb. 15—Rep. Maloney, (D., Conn.), has introduced a bill to authorize a two-cent stamp commemorating the 50th anniversary of the founding of Connecticut.

NRA VIOLATIONS UNDER PROBE

The Federal grand jury resumed its investigation of alleged violations of NRA codes, particularly with respect to the sale of petroleum products.

The jurors recently returned an indictment in this connection. It is said agents of Gen. Johnson, working with Asst. U. S. Atty. John A. Caravan, have unearthed sufficient evidence to result in at least one more true bill.

Filling station operators, whose gasoline below their advertised prices, are understood to be the particular target of the jurors.

U. S. Atty. Francis J. W. Word will also press an alleged CWA scandal, involving the forgery of a pay check, before the jury. It was indicated.

In addition to this, a number of countering charges are expected to be reviewed.

A statement attributed to Hyman Shulman, executive director of Butcher's Association, that the union was claiming a percentage of the "live" profit was declared incorrect today. This is not the case and Shulman did not make the reported remark, officials say.

KOSHER STRIKE SPREAD SEEN

More than 250 kosher butchers were on strike in Boston today and spreading to James H. Schulman, clerk of the United Kosher Butchers' Association, the strike will spread to all parts of Greater Boston and to Chelsea, Malden, Everett, Somerville, Winthrop, Lynn and Revere.

The strike is the outgrowth of a dispute between the above named body and the Hebrew Butchers' Workers' Union, Local 818. The butchers' association represents the employers, the union, the employees.

The employees claim the emulsion of the union in all stores by a contract that would give the union control of the hiring and firing of employees.

Cong. Fish Sees Big Benefit in Sales Tax

By HAMILTON FISH, JR.
United States Representative from New York
Written for the Hearst Newspapers

Washington, Feb. 15—The general manufacturers' sales tax is inevitable, and if it is not adopted at this session of Congress it will be at the next.

It is the fairest and most equitable excise tax because it treats all industries equally and is the easiest to collect and the most painless, because it is deducted at the source.

I am in favor of repealing the discriminatory taxes on specific industries and treating them all alike, through a 2 1/2 per cent manufacturers' sales tax.

There is no way of raising more money from income taxes without practical confiscation.

Actual confiscation serves no sound purpose, as the government could only make 5 per cent on the money, whereas the income taxpayer might pay anywhere up to 50 per cent annually to the government.

Loading a pipe, son, is like building a fire

"NOW if you want to build a fire you've got to have the right kind of chimney, and you've got to have the right kind of wood, seasoned right and packed right in the fireplace. If you've got all this, it's easy to light up.

"It's pretty near the same way in smoking a pipe. Now if you've got Granger Tobacco—the right kind of pipe tobacco—any old pipe will do.

"And if you put in a pinch at a time and pack it down good and tight—the way to load a pipe—all you need to do is strike a match.

"Granger smokes sweet and cool right down to the bottom of the bowl.

"That's pipe comfort, I tell you."

GALAXY OF HOLLYWOOD STARS TO APPEAR IN "THE LOVE LIFE OF CASANOVA" FILM

Charles Boyer to Play Role of From Grave to Gay Turns Film Theme in New Programs on Rialto Philanderer in Lasky's New Screen Venture

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor, Universal Service

Copyright, 1934, Universal Service, Inc.
Los Angeles, Feb. 15.—Reams and reams of material, all based on the amorous adventures of Casanova, are reposing on Jesse L. Lasky's desk. Reason J. L. is so eager to know the Casanova technique is because history's greatest lover is to be the subject of "The Love Life of Casanova," a romantic Lasky picture. Charles Boyer plays the role of the naughty, naughty philanderer.

Mr. Boyer, who recently arrived on the Fox lot from Paris, will have a whole galaxy of well-known women stars opposite him. "The Love Life of Casanova" will be very much on the order of "The Affairs of Anatole," which was a Lasky success of some years ago.

So much heavy business going on at Lasky Studios in L. A. that L. O. Parsons "must" know, M. H. Aynsworth, in town you'd hardly think anyone would have time to talk stories. Yet in the midst of all the financial and readjustment talk there was a hot discussion on "A Hat, A Coat, A Glove," a play produced by Conroy Gage and written by William Grey, noted German author. The one point on which everyone agreed was the choice of leading man, John Barrymore was unanimously selected to portray the lawyer who defends his wife's lover for a murder he himself committed.

Other actresses who read in this column that Jeanette MacDonald was signed to play the leading feminine role in the "Merry Widow" should profit by Miss MacDonald's example. Maurice Chevalier was so bitterly opposed to the red-haired singer playing opposite him, that for a time it looked as if Irving Thalberg would be forced to give the lead to someone else, but Jeanette was determined to play in the "Merry Widow" and be directed by Ernst Lubitch.

And today she won her point. "The Drunkard" has been history-making in Hollywood, where long run stage plays are almost unknown. For months in a theater that seating only 200, this old-fashioned melodrama has played to capacity houses. "Twas inevitable that Paramount, some other company would use film material in its comic seriousness, and Paramount will incorporate the play, and the entire cast, in "Breakfast" with W. C. Fields. Lanny Ross and Barbara Grissman in the leading roles. "Breakfast" is the "Benny" Walkerpicture. Perhaps you know "Benny" as St. M. Walker, formerly of the Hal Roach studios.

You'll be able to almost smell the tankard in the Joe M. Brown circus drama. "Joe M. Brown" is the story of the "Flying Cardenas" and the other members of the "showdown" troupe are "shooting" at El Monte the winter quarters of the Barrens circus. El Monte numbers only 1000 when all the inhabitants are home, but the whole town awaits the arrival of Joe M. Brown and his troupe of his famous grins. Almost as enthusiastic is the reception given the small boy, a son of an electrician, who plays Joe M. as a youngster. The little boy, three and a half years old, is the spitting image of Joe M., yawning mouth and all. March 17 is set as the date the Browns sail for the Orient.

Chatter in Hollywood

Today's whisper, where her young heart on her sleeve for Maurice Chevalier, and all the other youngsters who sigh deeply when his name is mentioned, might as well know the truth. Chevalier has been dining with Kay Francis on many occasions and has been seeing her to the exclusion of all of his other women friends. The handsome, dashing "Morris" is really, so his friends say, much attracted to Miss Francis and makes no secret of his interest in her. The show must go on in a sentiment but not always a possible thing when an actor is sick. Richard Arlen was taken so desperately ill with pleurisy that his physicians ordered him home to bed and to stay there until he was entirely recovered. Dick had been on the "Come on Marines" story for a week when he was so stricken, and now he is out of the cast. He will, however, start work on "Ready to Love" featuring Ida Lupino and Joe E. Morris. "Ready to Love" is a picture, "fame," when he is well.

Maybe M-G-M will have to put on a special performance of the New York stage hit, "Men in White," just to keep Robert Montgomery from going into a decline. Bob loved the play and was broken-hearted when the leading role was given to Clark Gable in the picture version. Now Bob has been offered the lead in the Los Angeles stage production, and he is moving home and earth to get to it. The studio would like to be sympathetic, but Bob is needed for a new picture. If he doesn't get to do that role, though, he'll never be the same.

Snapshots of Hollywood

Giving the high sign are Oliver Hardy and Stan Laurel in "Sons of the Deceit," first run Loew's Orpheum theatre. With them in the picture will see the comic act, Charley Chase.

Beauty's Hints, Countess for Cheek Tints, Keith Stage

Nearest of the Hollywood "finds," Katharine Hepburn described as a "Hollywood find" a new tip for those who are "countess" that is, those who are now to be seen in the "Hollywood" style, is to have their hair and face may judge of themselves. Katharine, at the age of 30, what she does in this picture. "I do not think much with my face," she explained. "The skin is too precious to experiment upon. But I do know that my hair is a great beauty find. I eat lots of fresh vegetables, and drink my milk daily. I also bathe my face in it, and sponge my body with it. "Carmenita are fine for the complexion, and marvellous for the teeth." Miss Hepburn added. She has a dozen of them delivered to her home daily, she states.

Little Davis departs from milk which physicians long have recommended for its skin enriching qualities.

JUNIOR MISSES FIND GLORIFIED FROCKS -- CLEVER THREE-IN-ONE BEAUTY OFFERING

Impudent Young Styles Are Specially Designed, and Tempt Mother, Too

By Annice Brink

IT'S A TASK that requires no mean ability, diplomacy and tact—getting the young 'uns of the family into a Junior Miss shop, as every mother knows to her cost. Now that she, when the girls have strayed at the Junior Miss floor, I have heard mothers and mummies from a leggy young person, "Do we have to look here? Can't we go up to the Misses' Dressing?" You know how the girls' Assembly is to me.

Two things have caused me to practically do away with such a situation, and make life in general smoother, the atmosphere less ruffled, in the growing daughter and mother. One is Fashion Week. The delicate and shoving exotics have had the door shut early in the day. The fruit vase type of dress culture the costume.

INVADED BY BIG SISTERS. It is much more than I know. I know the girls' Assembly about one a week, and I know not to omit it. I know that some of the stores have discovered designers who specialize in the difficult case of mothers, and have set up departments that no longer mean just a collection of gay, gaudy, mildly blouses, and hairpin pajamas. No ditching are some of the frocks that the department is added unceremoniously by those a good way from the Junior Miss stage, if they are fortunate enough to be included in the 11 to 17 group.

What does one find offered? The one thing, boys. All the way from dry frocks to evening gowns. And the mothers with which they are used? Taffeta or printing crepe lined with a contrasting silk, sometimes acquire huge proportions and stand stiffly at attention on the bosom of an otherwise plain frock.

DRIPPING BATHS. Shows that the causality anywhere you wish and drip long ends to the hems of evening gowns are beloved—and how many a staid lady would love to wear them!

Trains on evening gowns are not forgotten. By all means, let her have one. Some of them are too long, and they often have cunning touches like fluting or scallops. Often they are used on pinks.

Flirting is most important—mother will be interested in this note for herself, indeed it is especially smart on the hem of a skirt. But it can go most anywhere, and be hit or tiny, flat and perky, or narrow and very

Coffee Table May Have Flowers

By Mrs. BECKMAN

DEAR MRS. BECKMAN

—Is it correct to place a coffee table of not, what is correct? —When using finger towels, should they be hung on a towel rack or placed carefully about the bathroom?

—Yes, often we keep a bowl of flowers on the coffee table, when it is not in use for the service of coffee or tea, or we keep a book or two on it. I usually have some elegant centerpiece, a box of finger towels, or one or two ash trays and match boxes or a table lighter.

—Finger tip towels should be very carefully hung on a towel rack or rack in the bathroom. If there is room they should have their separate space on the towel rack, and if not, they may be hung over larger towels, that is, the hand towels, and if not both towels, They should never be "placed carefully about the bath room."

Daily Suggestion

For Self-Improvement

Never snap your finger at a waiter or waitress. Give your orders in a pleasant voice.

Whose Fault?

A quarrelsome child is a sick child, mummy! A bad bowel condition means bad behavior. And it doesn't help matters to give him/her pills and give some powerful cathartic that upsets their bowels. When you see a child with a pale, yellowed eyes, or other signs of sluggishness, there's always a way to cleanse and soothe that little system without violence; next day you have a happy, contented child. This commensurate treatment is explained on the right.

When Little Girls Show Temper

Good health and good behavior go hand in hand. When a little girl is smiling (and sunny dispositions), And it's really so simple a matter to keep children's bowels regular. The only "medicine" most mothers ever need to promote thorough bowel action is pure California Syrup of Figs. The sense in this fruit laxative is that it weakens them, or takes away their appetite. But get your California Syrup of Figs; you can get it anywhere; it's not expensive.

Mode of the Moment Shown by Well-Known Women

Pretty Lucile Mae Clarke, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player, is wearing this attractive two-piece hand-knit sports ensemble. It has the new high neckline, accented with fringed tassels in blue and white. The straightline skirt, short polo sleeves and narrow "striving" belt are other interesting features.

Pandora Tells You

By Pandora

DEAR PANDORA:

I am not an analyst at heart of person but I have eyesight and power of thought and I know that my husband has been as much as a wreck.

We have been married ten years and if I had time to do any a little thing I would do it.

I have seen girls and middle-aged women who are taking a characteristic of all males and taking a great deal of trouble about it as if they alone suffered through this masculine peculiarity.

Don't little runny men make you sick? PAMELLA.

The Marry-Go-Round

This appears to be the open season for divorcing radio cronies. The season for divorcing screen stars and titled figures is never closed.

In the good old days, when the men went to the radio and the women to the movies, it was for love—and a love affair was a love affair.

Now, however, the men go to the radio and the women to the movies, and the love affair is a love affair.

Many a woman who would not dream of divorcing her husband in the good old days, when the men went to the radio and the women to the movies, is now divorcing him.

When a man is a born philosopher, marriage doesn't unite him to a woman—it merely attaches him to her in a casual sort of way.

Most wives are like "Homer" in the "Homer" story, and occasionally, but awfully comforting to come back to when the husband is away.

Apparently, it takes two women to make a man feel that his life is perfectly balanced, but why have he always tried to induce them to be "clabby"? No doubt, Mrs. Anthony would have been a "clabby" to call on "Mrs. Marg," if he could have persuaded them to "listen to reason."

Een Tailleur Has Feminine Touch

By Victoria Gaines

Authentic last-minute fashions from New York—the style center of America.

CERTAIN WOMEN have always realized, early in life, that the pink frothing and whipped cream of feminine finery were not for them. Frothy fro-fro might go very well with starchy eyes and a Southern drawl, but their role in life called for something severe, simple and sophisticated—the spice, rather than the sugary plums of fashion.

Of course, there's the danger that the cool, crisp look which is this particular type's chief charm might be overdone. In many cases, this stark severity of costume has turned into something as uninteresting and unexciting as so much spinach.

NO MANNISH MONOTONY To give snap and sparkle to that drearily dull creature usually known as the "tailored woman," is the mission in life of one of our smart shops which has always specialized just in the type of clothes. Here, the simplest things have become stylish—there's not a hint of mannish monotony that makes one think of spectacles and schoolmarm. Here the tailored trend toward soft—usually as substantial as English material, and about as exciting—in given, is simply by doubling. It reverses and buttons them back to the side. Here are checks and plaids in colorful combinations that take the air of the tailored suit, and give the swing and dash they need.

Drop In for Shampoo, Wave and Reducing Treatment Some Fine Afternoon

By Carol Ames

WE WOMEN ALL love bargain, don't we?

Of course there are bargains and bargains, and most of us have learned by and experience that some of these were only rather costly experiments after all... unduly cheap soap, which was too harsh... cleansing creams which weren't really satisfactory, but really SUCH a bargain you couldn't resist... bargain-counter product, which didn't match your complexion and had to be set aside unused... I could be a meanie, and go on endlessly reminding you of costly "bargains."

But today I have news of a REAL find in the beauty field which is just what many of you have been looking for—there is a downtown beauty salon in Boston where you can get a free-reducing treatment with your shampoo and wave! The shampoo and curl cost no more than usual, but in addition you get a pleasant reducing treatment in a machine which "squeezes" away the extra pounds, and smoothes out undesirable fat spots. Is that GOOD news if you are a bit too "plump" to wear the shapeliest, form-revealing new spring styles?

B. C. BATTERY MEN IN SHAPE DESPITE LOSS OF ARMORY

BUDGET SLASH SMALL BUDGET TO EAGLES

By WALTER KILEY
Forced to abandon Commonwealth Armory for early season baseball drills due to a slash in the athletic budget, Boston College basketball players are nevertheless getting in limbering up work.

Most of the hurling staff have already started to get in shape in their local school gymnasiums while commencing next week, Coach Frank McCrehan expects to be able to take his pitchers and catchers to Walham for daily sessions, thanks to the co-operation of the authorities at St. Charles High. McCrehan is forced to await good outdoor weather before he can officially get his entire squad in actual training. This means that it will be about April 1 that the Eagles will begin their season at the college level, only a few short weeks before the Eagles open at home against Fordham on April 19th.

LONG SCHEDULE
While an influx of promising candidates from last year's freshmen ranks added to an excellent nucleus of veterans indicates that McCrehan can anticipate a fairly rosy spring season, the fact remains that the Eagles must face a difficult schedule of some 21 games.

Most of its games are to be played at home, trials against Providence College, Williams, New Hampshire State, Holy Cross and Tufts being the extent of its traveling.

Whereas last year, his pitching staff was weak, McCrehan's 1934 hurling department should be strong.

In addition to Bob Duffy, of Walham, a big six foot one inch junior who was improving with every game last year, and Charles Coleman, both veterans, McCrehan can rely on Harry Lane, of Cambridge and Ted Galligan of Ridge Tech and St. Ann's, two boys who have proved their pitching talents in the fastest of twilight competition. Charlie Marzullo, a sophomore, a capable freshman last season.

TWO CATCHERS READY
Jerry Tachibana, one of the best hitters in the Cape League during recent seasons, and Tim O'Brien of Cambridge Latin and St. Ann's and one of McCrehan's best receivers at North Cambridge, a sophomore at the Heights, will alternate in the catching department.

Tamulis, Broaca Sign With Yanks
New York, Feb. 15 (INS)—Officials of the New York Yankees revealed today that Vernon Gomberg, star left-hander, wasn't fooling when he announced in Chicago yesterday that he wouldn't play ball for the money the Yanks had offered him.

Gomberg's unsigned contract came back in the mails today along with the signed agreements of five other members of the club. The signers are Ben Byrd, outfielder; Johnny Broaca, Marvin Duke, Jimmy DeShazo and Vito Tamulis, pitchers.

ESSEX LEAGUE SCHEDULES STARS ENTERED

ANNOUNCED

By BILL CONNELL
A basketball and hockey program than ever for the lively Essex County Basketball League, was announced today by John W. Kennedy, Lawrence high faculty manager of sports.

The league games are scheduled for each Saturday and Wednesday evening, starting April 1 and concluding June 6. Teams in the league include Lawrence, Gloucester, Lynn Classical, Lynn English, Peabody, Salem, Haverhill. With several fast teams certain to be in action among the group, competition should be close.

One of the most thrilling school league games of the year has been running in the Essex county court house, with Lynn English and Classical at the head of the parade all the time. Both Lynn teams are fast and smart and one probably will snatch the crown.

In the North Shore court race, Salem has been the luckiest team, for since the season started the five schools has hit its real form. Several of the boys accompanied the coaches on their grid march to the West Coast. A hit fired after the march, and the boys were to play at the start of the season, Salem started off on the wrong foot. Glenn O'Brien's excellent tutoring, has brought Salem ahead to certain extent in this latter part of the season.

District school games trials were held today at the East Armory with many of the better grade school competitors in the running. Several were from the North Shore, such large numbers have turned out for basketball games in the track shuffle, few boys have had a chance to build important records. Hence dark horse wins in the track today were to be expected.

Newton courtiers prepared to travel to Brookline today for a Suburban League conflict. Under apparently has the crown as well as the league, but Newton planned to take today's game to move up a trifle in the grid.

MR. BOSTON

By JACK CONWAY
MAX SCHEMELING found that to his sorrow in his Philadelphia bout with Steve Hannan that inactivity does not sharpen the blade of a fighting man. The story of Schemeling's comeback match was one of slowness on the part of the former champion, poor judgment of distance and lack of fighting spirit.

Schemeling has done very little boxing since he scored his sensational knockout of Johnny Risso five years ago. He has been so satisfied to make one or two ring appearances each year. I always felt that if Schemeling had not shot to the top so quickly and if he had had more numerous bouts that he might have developed into one of the great modern heavyweights.

A fellow always could deliver a terrific blast with his right hand. Schemeling has developed a first class left hand if he had more boxing. Schemeling came to the front during a period when the purses were high and the business of boxing called for a star to take as few risks as possible.

Schemeling is still comparatively young as heavyweights go and if he wishes he can still secure many attractive bouts. More active campaigning would also improve his boxing. Max, however, had a long time and now that it is almost dark he will never receive a chance to regain his lost championship. The German is certainly in less interest in the boxing game.

Harvey's Good Fortune
HARVEY'S VICTORY was a break for good old Charley Harvey, one of the most popular managers in the boxing game. Harvey has had his ups and downs and only took the Philadelphia match because it offered him an opportunity to get some money. He didn't really believe Hannan could beat him and was probably one of the most surprised persons in the Philadelphia C. C. when Hannan drove the former champion back against the ropes.

Harvey managed many famous bouts and came to this country. Hannan was knocked out by Gene Tunney. Harvey suffered serious injuries in two automobile accidents. He has been left partly paralyzed.

Marathoner Loses in Dog Race
Celebrated, N. H. Feb. 15—You can blame it on the weather. W. K. Prick, local runner, who was 17th in the Boston Marathon last year, trailed Rose Stannard's sled dog team by ten minutes in a ten mile run here.

Despite a zero temperature, Prick, scantily clad, finished the run in 81 minutes, with the buskins recording the distance in 61.

Heavyweights Feature Card FLEET TO RUN

at Irish-American Show IN N. Y. MEET

With heavyweights mummified in the Irish-American A. A. A. club house, 300 Broadway, South Boston, action will be seen in five open classes, including 126, 135, 147, and 160 pounds and heavyweights, all open.

Ed Smith of Brighton, outstanding heavyweight star developed in amateur ranks the worst, is again entered and will be the favorite to win through his class. Other heavyweights are Charlie Belton of Wollast, heavy boy who developed himself by working in the woods, and Bill Demaggio, Norwood. The 147 championship fight to be held at the Old Armory, Main St., Boston.

The leading contenders from the State College, never having won a place in an N. E. A. A. event will be confined to the class B events.

Rena McDonald, defending champion of the eight-pound shut-out crown, will have considerable difficulty in retaining her title against such strength as Roberto Winton, B. S. A. Celia Gelineas, Vera Von Berg and Alice Dwyer from the Alpha C.

Helen Phillips, B. S. A. C. and Louise Sticks, Ontario, C. C. holders of the senior high jump championship, having tied for first place last year, will have as their most dangerous rival Barbara Howe, B. S. A. holder of the New England Junior outdoor high jump title.

The New England Junior standing broad jump championship will have first-class competition among the likes of Schenck's coming present title-holder, Edith Demaggio, Ontario, C. C. Margaret Burke, Brockton, C. C. and May Smith, Alpha C.

The open standing broad jump will have perfect form in Dorcas Lyford, product of the B. S. A. who travels from Spencer. She is the national indoor standing broad jump champion and holder of the American and world records.

Fox Terrier Wins Dog Show Trophy

New York, Feb. 15 (INS)—A wire-haired fox terrier today won the trophy for the ninth time in canine history at the exhibition of the Westminster Kennel Club in Madison Square Garden.

The dog is Flossy Spill, owned by the Hallett Kennels of Stanley J. Hallett, Chappaqua, N. Y.

London's Title Surge

JIM LONDON, who meets Joe Malacvic in a finish wrestling bout at the Boston Garden next Monday night, has been making a brilliant surge in an effort to prove he is entitled to the world's heavyweight title. London has not only won a week, but he has also been meeting better than average wrestlers. The Malacvic fight at the Garden will furnish the Greek heavyweight with a real test. The Panther has been the only man who has come near licking London during the past few weeks.

Malacvic Wins
MALACVIC won faster than London and also was younger. He knows as much about the fine points of the game as the old white eagle. London rules a solid favorite in betting for the coming clash with Malacvic.

Million Dollar Incomes Are Studied

JOSEPH STAGG LAWRENCE, 47, who has been in seven figures or better within a year the 1919 level of the financially chosen was again in the money. Lawrence, who has a law firm in New York City, said his earnings proceeded to multiply in cash fashion that the possession of a million dollars was no longer a mark of distinction. Lawrence said he had 10 million in the country had respectively 311 and 313 citizens in this group. The inclusion of the 1919 group in the population aggregated more than a billion dollars.

The record of the next three years shows in striking fashion the casualties which hard times have taken from the ranks of the wealthy. The magnificent total of 313 millionaires shrank to a mere 200 in 1920. The next year this figure had fallen to 149. This leaves the total number of millionaires in the country for the post-war period at 311. The 1919 group, as Senator Henry P. Langford said in his report, "has been the worst among the great wealth among the few has been a cause of the depression, then it would be a good idea to have a process in the government to increase out of the taxes accumulated in the country. Any recovery of the country would come and the ranks of the

New York, Feb. 15—Cotton fu-

HOW true it is that they are turned toward Washington these days was demonstrated today when cotton futures jumped more than 10 cents in London. Today's cotton futures were the first since President Roosevelt was strongly opposed to a cotton control bill. That helped.

Railroad Shares' Action Reserves
Observers of the carrier group say that one of the reasons the railroads have died on the tape is because of the lack of interest in rail bonds and with many of the securities of the railroads still yielding 7 per cent there has been little domestic and foreign buying in these issues. It is pointed out that there has been no selling of rail securities since the subsequent market awaiting further

Chicago Trading

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Responsive to firming of securities and to substantial gains in demand for wheat, wheat showed an upward price trend early today.

Opening unchange $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ cent higher, at 90 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢, wheat after-dressed an all around gain. Corn started $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ up, and subsequently altered little.

the manner in which the list has acted so far. They say that the country's economy is gradually leaved off and came to a full stop. Selling securities has been almost less some unforeseen Washington development causes the market to shudder there is no reason to look for a renewal of selling. Consequently long positions are being expanded.

There is one unpleasant note that need not take the financial district by surprise. It is the proposed investigation of liquor stocks. Now we personally think that someone made a lot of money last summer in liquor shares and it was not the public. If unscrupulous practices enabled a small group to profit then it must be cleaned up. But it will upset the market in all probability.
